Dear Mr. Zappin:

Thanks very much for speaking with me this afternoon. Just to clarify, what I said was that it was my understanding that the reporter had already told you that he received the decision from a clerk in Justice Cooper's chambers. We believe that a motion to compel is likely to fail because New York's Shield Law provides strong protections to media parties, particularly in the context of a third-party subpoena on an issue collateral to the central issue of the litigation.

Sincerely yours,
